

Elementary STEM Fair June 1, 2019

Registration Now Open!

Registration Deadline: May 17, 2019

Elementary STEM Fair: June 1, 2019

Awards Ceremony: TBD date and location

The DC STEM Fair is a long-standing tradition for DC's public, public charter, parochial, private, and home-schooled students. Students can showcase their research skills and compete for a variety of awards and prizes.

The Elementary STEM Fair (Grades 3-5) will take place on June 1, 2019 at the University of the District of Columbia (UDC) and will feature engaging keynote speakers, an interactive Expo hall, and professional development workshops hosted by the TGR Foundation.

Register your students for the DC STEM Fair before our deadline, May 17!

Schools can register up to up to five projects for the competition. To register your student projects, visit our website, <http://www.dcstemnetwork.org/dc-stem-fair/> or contact us at dcstemprojects@gmail.com.

- Student projects must be registered by May 17 in order to participate.
  - Teachers who register projects will received a list of students who are confirmed for the Fair by May 22.
  - Only students who have been confirmed for the Fair are eligible to compete.
  - Projects must be dropped off on Friday, May 31 from 4:00-6:30 pm at UDC.
  - If you anticipate an issue with the registration deadline or have questions, please contact dcstemprojects@gmail.com by May 15 to ensure your students can participate.
- Students and families are encouraged to attend this interactive event on June 1!
